Infant

Feeding Services

WHAT DOES COLUMBIA PEDS HAVE TO OFFER?

Feeding support from infancy
throughout childhood
for a variety of needs related to feeding.

BREAST & BOTTLE FEEDING

Symptoms of difficulty with early feeding can include:

- poor latch
- gagging
- coughing
- spillage

We offer support in these areas, as well as transitioning to solid foods and liquids. We'll take a thorough look at your child's physical structures and functioning needed for these skills.

PEDIATRIC FEEDING

Oral Motor Skills

For some children, limitations of oral motor skills can impact their feeding. Our speech therapy team is here to support oral motor skill development to support feeding!

Sensory

Some barriers to safe and fun eating may involve your child's sensory systems. Our occupational therapy team is here to support sensory integration as it relates to feeding.
